RIDGEVILLE READY MASTER PLAN

January 5, 2023

What ideas do you have about the City of North Ridgeville's future?

The City of North Ridgeville is undertaking a master planning process, Ridgeville Ready, to create a master plan that will respond to current challenges and capitalize on the community's potential. As the city continues to change, it is important to have a framework by which decisions are made. The master plan will be developed based on input from the North Ridgeville community, and so, the process will involve extensive, diverse and effective public engagement opportunities to gather input.

To ensure the planning process is successful, the city wants to hear your voice. The first round of public input starts with the "Ready to Listen" in-person workshops, held from February 28 to March 2. Everyone in the community is invited to share their ideas about the future of North Ridgeville. These ideas will help inform the master plan recommendations. Come together with your community and be part of this important process that will shape the city's future.
